SCREEN 01 · SPLASH

SECTION A · FIRST IMPRESSION

01

The splash.

First impression. Wordmark, slogan, get started. No marketing copy, no walkthroughs — one tap to the doorway.

GOAL

Brand recognition + one tap. No decisions required.

PRIMARY CTA

Get started → Sign Up

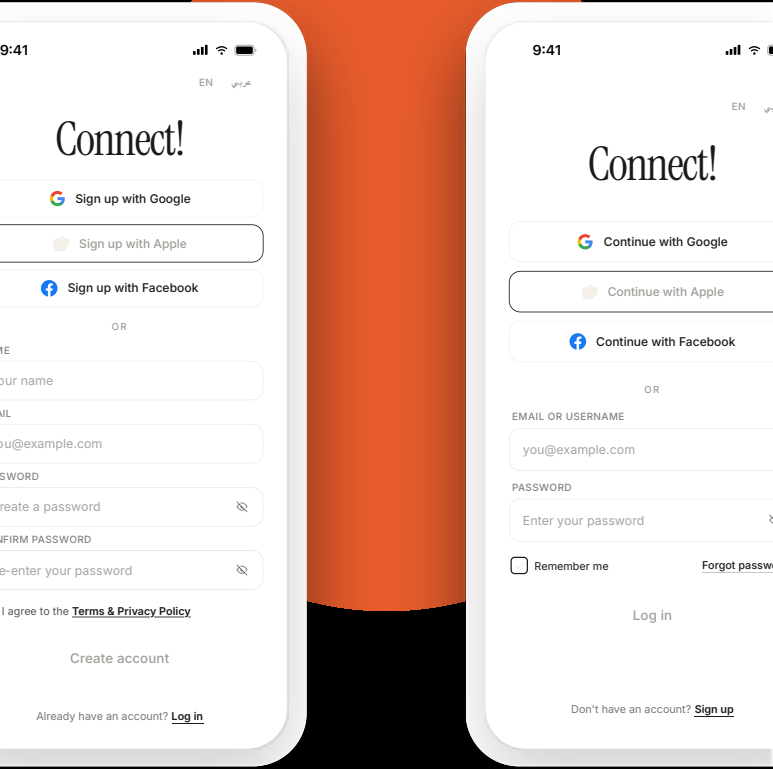

SECONDARY

Log in — returning members

SECTION A · FIRST IMPRESSION

02 · 03

Sign up or log in.

Two doors into Connect. New members create an account; returning members come straight in. Apple, Google, or email — Apple first because it's lowest-friction on iOS.

DEFAULT PATH

Continue with Apple — 1 tap, Face ID

ALTERNATES

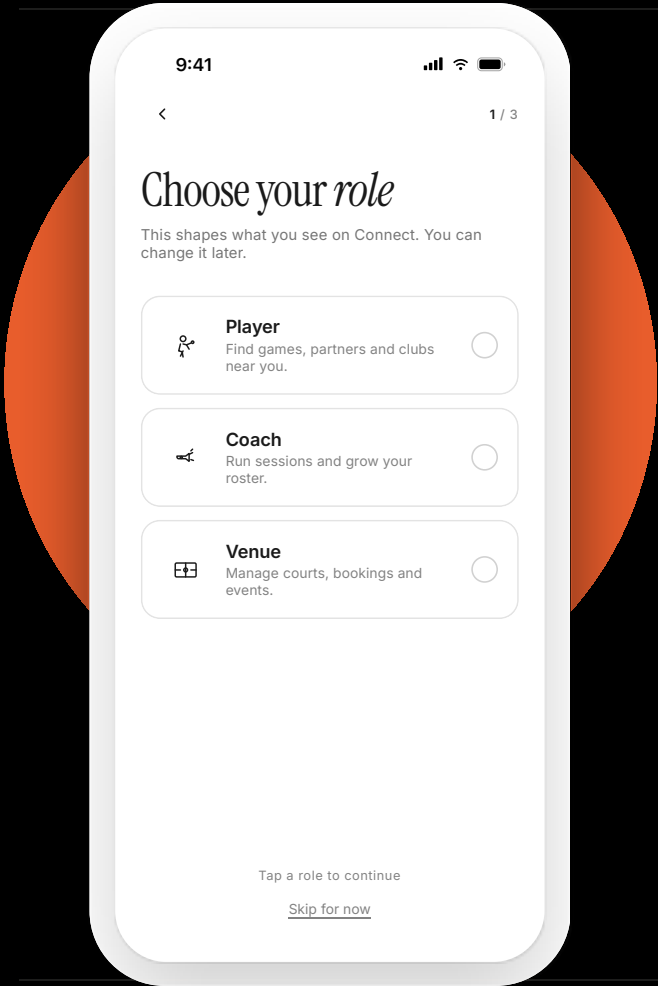

Google · Email + password

CROSS-LINK

Each screen links to the other

RECOVERY

Forgot password — email-link reset

04

Choose your role.

The single most important answer in the flow — it shapes every Home, every notification, every match suggestion. Four large radio cards, generous tap targets, no defaults selected.

OPTIONS

Player · Coach · Organiser · Fan

REQUIRED?

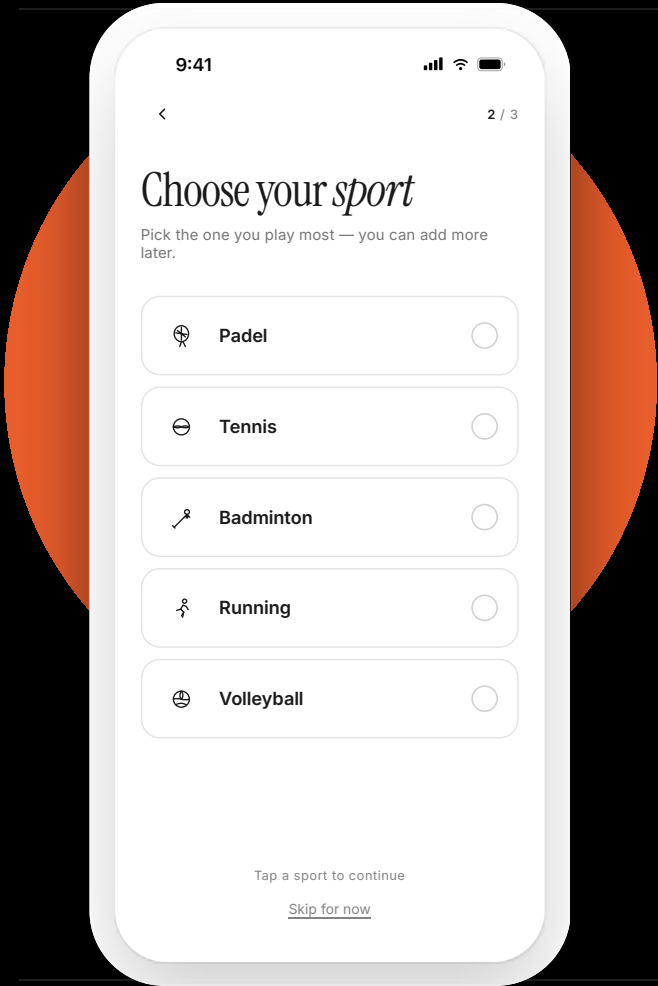

Yes — skip not offered

EDITABILITY

Changeable any time in Settings

NEXT

→ Q2 Sport

05

Choose your sport.

A grid of sport tiles, single-select for now to keep the first match recommendation focused. A "Add more later" reassurance under the heading prevents lock-in anxiety.

OPTIONS

Football · Basketball · Tennis · Padel
· Running + 8 more

SELECTION

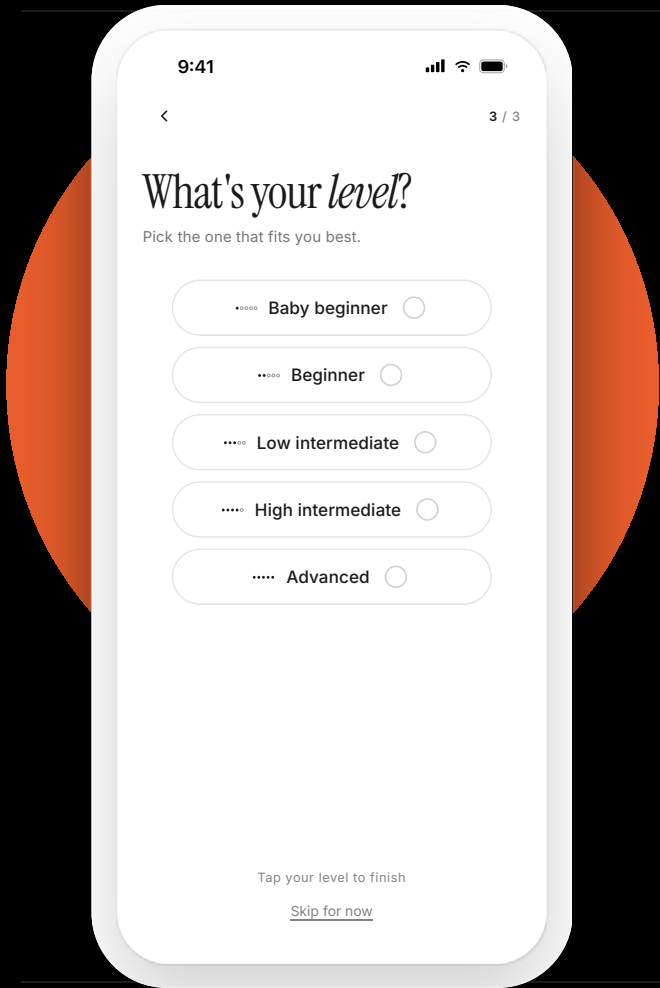

Single-select (multi in Settings)

SEARCH

Affordance for long tail

NEXT

→ Q3 Level

06

What's your level?

Self-reported skill. We deliberately stayed away from numeric ratings (UTR, NTRP, Elo) — early on, players don't know theirs and the cognitive load is high. Plain-language brackets convert better.

OPTIONS

Casual · Club · Competitive · Pro

REQUIRED?

Optional — "Skip for now"

WHY NO RATING?

Plain words convert; ratings deter.
Auto-calibrates after 3 matches.

NEXT

→ Welcome

07

You're all set.

The reward screen. Confetti tied to the brand orange fires once on entry; a recap of the user's answers sits below so they can immediately catch a mistake without digging into Settings.

GOAL

Closure + a confident hand-off to Home

PRIMARY CTA

Enter Connect → First-time Home

ESCAPE HATCH

Edit answers — jumps back to Q1

MOMENT

Confetti fires once on entry (200ms in)

Welcome to Connect.
